MOTHER TONGUE INFLUENCE AND ITS IMPACT ON SPOKEN ENGLISH

In India, English is seen as a highly prized language, with a great deal of prestige associated to it. There is a lot of effort put into teaching or learning English in India. Schools. In spite of this, little attention has been paid to the issue improve the ability of the ordinary Indian to talk classroom. Learner will be able to use what they've learned overarching themes and activities for the classroom mistaken assumption has been made: there will be a period of time. Consequently, this ability is not being developed by the students, and as a result lack self-assurance while speaking English.

To make matters worse, in teaching this language, little emphasis is placed on teaching students how to pronounce specific sounds. In value of native-like instruction in typical Indian schools the appropriate emphasis on the accent is missing. Because of this, that many things might be responsible for this, for example: There are so many dialects to choose from that it is almost hard to do so. Addressing every student's accent in a lesson. The gravity of the situation cannot be overstated educational difficulty in Indian schools. The acoustic environments spoken and phonological aspects of English It is imperative that the Indian context be taken into consideration while writing. Create a native-sounding accent in order to offset this difficulty It's easier to believe in Indian students. Pronunciation is critical to the success of a conversation. Cannot be argued against. Even more so than grammar, it is crucial. And the language. Nevertheless, there is evidence that the language of the mother Influence on English may be seen in every word. a variety of ways. A kind of grammatical error. There are a variety of reasons why a person's pronunciation may be off. The incorrect use of a term or its right spelling grammatical error or a lack of fluency in the language might be to blame. be the root of the misunderstanding. It's quite usual for the primary cause of this is the influence of one's mother language. Errors in pronunciation may be traced to a lack of practise. Phonological and grammatical inconsistencies to and from one's mother language to another the instructor serves as a role model for students on a regular basis. Detecting the Influence of the Mother Tongue There is no one size fits all approach to teaching English as a second language. This page is too long to just list all of the most prevalent errors. Was unacceptably protracted. There is a lot to learn when you're a total newbie to the game. You could have a hard time figuring out which nation you are in at first. Longer stays give you a better chance of catching the similar blunders are being made, which is perhaps an indication of the mother tongue is interfering. Be on the lookout for blunders. The efforts that your kids put out, and when you go across Ask a friend or family member who has used them before conversant in the native tongue, if that's what's causing itlanguage. It's absolutely worth the effort, since allowing kids to participate is a good idea.

They can tell when their mother is influencing them. It's a good idea to use your tongue to prevent it from occurring again. Similarly, if you begin to learn the native tongue, you'll be able to gaining an appreciation for the significant effect of one's mother language It will be much easier to fix this in the future. This is what I'm talking about. Taking the leap and learning the ropes is a plus language. You may also take advantage of other people's work. There are many of "How [language] impacts English how to "many books and articles have appeared on the internet written about it as well. One is all you need to do. Depending on the nation you're visiting and which language you're speaking, and you'll be all set. Also, keep in mind that words have varying meanings in various contexts. Distinct dialects, or words that may be used in different ways meanings in the English language may differ (or any) idiomatic expressions in different languages. In other words, fresh ideas should be presented with increased caution language, since there are moments when ambiguities arise. Had no idea about it at the time. What Are Some of The Things That Mother Has an Influence Notogaea's previously indicated, English is influenced by a variety of languages. Acquiring knowledge in a new way. Word choice may be a source of confusion for certain people. A lack of order might be an issue. You may have heard phrases like these "I'd want to thank you for your "I'll have bread for breakfast tomorrow," or "I'm going to Japan tomorrow." "As a matter of fact, to fix this, all you have to do is remind yourself. Learning how to use proper word order and rehearsing practise. In reality, practising regularly fixes the majority of mistakes. more. Pronunciation may be an issue in different languages. Issue. The most famous example is the Germans' pronunciation of the word "Germany. "As "V" and saying things like, "Welcome to my place."home". People in France do not pronounce the letter "H."Mother language is another another well-known effect. The "schwa" sound is common in several languages.

As an alternative to pronouncing Dog, they can say Bird, "Birds," or "Dogga." In most cases, it stems from a combination of two factors: were taught wrong or had it gone by the wayside. A schwa may also be caused by a person's own speech impediment. The sounds and pronunciations of languages are quite diverse. Such like Chinese. It might be difficult to deal with the more delicate aspects of life. It's challenging to keep track of all the different English sounds. This is what I'm talking about.is one of the reasons why some individuals have difficulty expressing themselves accurately varying the sound of various vowel letters. We have no choice except to remain entirely influenced by one's native speech. To make things easier, infect. Our anguish, some stuttering quirks of the Indian tongue tolerable, and this is what we mean by neutrality is an Indian accent. We Indians should aim to achieve the following: diminish the effect of our native tongue to such an extent that Punjabi/Bhojpuri/Tamil/Marathi We become an Indian English speaker as a result of our efforts.
